AMAZING FACTS
 WITH DOUG BATCHELOR

How to Keep the Sabbath

By Doug Batchelor

What does the Bible mean by keeping the Sabbath? Christ had a number of conflicts that are written in the Gospels. He never said you shouldn't keep it. He just told us how to keep it. This was a very important subject because scripture has been neglected by much of Christianity.

I had a pastor friend say to me one day, "Brother Doug, why are you making a big deal about the Sabbath day? I know you worship God on the Sabbath day. But I worship God every day!"

"But I too worship God every day also. It's not just about worship."

"You're right," he said. "You're also supposed to rest."

And I replied, saying, "But if you rest every day, you're not just being holy, you're just being lazy. What we're talking about are different things."

In 1924, Eric Liddell was a dedicated Christian and he was a very fast runner, so fast that he was chosen to represent his country, France, to run in the Olympics of 1924 in the 100 meter event. But after he got there, they were having final time trials and it just happened to be on Sunday, and he said, "I cannot participate in this."

So they asked him why, and he said because the Sabbath was a holy day and as a devoted Christian, he could not run. All of a sudden the team and the country were put in a great quandary about what to do. So they brought in the church leaders to try to pressure him to run, saying, "Eric, it's the Olympics, just do this once. God will understand." Eric said, "It's a holy day, and I'm not going to compromise it."

Presentation of the Ark of His Covenant

All of these Old Testament "Types and Shadows" are where the Spirit of God hid the New Testament and is explained in the Apostles' writings. With this being established emphatically by the Book of Hebrews, we go on into the most holy and important of illustrations that God Himself established, The Ark of His Covenant.

The second-most important aspect of the Ark is that it is not just a part of the Old Testament because it was built by Moses. In fact, it is truly appointed as a New Testament object and teaching. The reason being was that the first sets of tablets, "the Ten Commandments" were never placed in the Ark of the Covenant. That set began with this statement:

(Ex 20:2) "I am the LORD thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage."

Big Brothers Big Sisters 100 Men in 100 Days Campaign

(called Littles) who are facing any number of challenges including living in poverty, coming from a single-parent home, living with a relative, or having a parent who is incarcerated. The program boasts an impressive success rate, with 97 percent of the children matched for more than a year in 2015 advancing to the next school grade, and 99 percent staying out of the juvenile justice system.

Volunteers are carefully screened and trained before being matched with a child. Bigs are asked for a minimum 12-month commitment in the school-based program, where they see their Little one hour each week during the school year. And they are asked for a minimum 15-month commitment in the community-based program, where they pick up their Little from home (typically on the weekend or in the evenings) twice a month and engage in activities of mutual interest—going to ball games, hiking/biking, spending time at the beach, etc.

Anyone interested in becoming a Big can get started by attending one of our Big Orientation & Training sessions. For a complete schedule of sessions near you, got to our website at www.bbbstampabay.org and follow the "Volunteer" links. And check the website regularly for a list of 100 Men in 100 Days events.

Louisiana Flooding: Red Cross Helps 8,000+

American Red Cross disaster workers are helping thousands of Louisiana residents with a safe place to stay and food to eat despite closed roads and continued flooding making it challenging to get relief supplies to where they are needed.

"The current flooding in Louisiana is the worst natural disaster to strike the United States since Superstorm Sandy," said Brad Kieserman, vice president, Disaster Services Operations and Logistics for the Red Cross. "The Red Cross is mounting a massive relief operation which we anticipate will cost at least $30 million, and that number may grow as we learn more about the scope and magnitude of the devastation."

Monday night, more than 8,400 people sought refuge in 36 Red Cross and community shelters in Louisiana. More than 1,000 Red Cross disaster volunteers have been mobilized from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico to help with the Louisiana relief efforts. More than 80 volunteers from Florida have been deployed to help families in Louisiana. The Red Cross is also mobilizing over 60 disaster response vehicles, nearly 40,000 ready-to-eat meals, and dozens of trailers filled with shelter and kitchen supplies. See more about the Red Cross response here.

"People in Louisiana urgently need our help now," continued Kieserman. "Please consider making a financial donation to the Red Cross today."

How To Help

People in Louisiana are facing a dire situation. Floodwaters still cover neighborhoods. An estimated 25,000 homes are damaged, affecting at least 75,000 people. Thousands of people have no power when it feels like 99 degrees outside and more than 100 roads are closed. People can donate by visiting redcross.org, calling 1-800-RED CROSS, or texting the word LAFLOODS to 90999 to make a $10 donation. Donations enable the Red Cross to prepare for, respond to, and help people recover from these disasters.

Finding Loved Ones

Residents of the affected areas can connect with their loved ones by using the "I'm Safe" button on the Red Cross Emergency App which is free and can be found in the app store for someone's mobile device by searching for "American Red Cross" or by going to redcross.org/apps.

People can also visit www.redcross.org/safeandwell to register on the Red Cross Safe and Well website, a secure and private way that friends and family connect. The site also allows people to update their status on Facebook and Twitter.

Joint Relief Effort

The Red Cross is working closely with the entire response community to coordinate relief efforts and deliver help quickly and efficiently, keeping in mind the diverse needs of the community. Some of the organizations sending help to the area include Southern Baptist Disaster Relief, the NAACP, Islamic Relief USA, Church of the Brethren Children's Disaster Services, Save the Children, AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps, AFL-CIO, Verizon, Duracell, Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, Baton Route YMCA, and Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints volunteers.
