From Irvin Baxter, president of End Times Ministries, explains the teaching about the four blood moons and how they fall on the Jewish feast days that affect major events with the Jewish people.

God may be getting ready to speak to us again in a spiritual way through heavenly signs. From April 15, 2014 through September 28th, 2015, Biblical facts are saying that some great event will occur around the four blood moons that will change the world forever.

What is a blood moon? According to NASA, a blood moon is total eclipse when the earth passes between the sun and the moon, blocking the sun's rays causing the moon to appear red. Most lunar eclipses producing a blood moon occur at least twice per year as some of us may have seen on some of these occasions. A tetrad is four blood moons occurring within six months of each other. According to NASA, these tetrad only takes place every 500 years, like the tetrad we are witnessing now in 2015, and they are not as frequent as a normal blood moon.

Mark Biltz, author of his book “The Biblical Calendar”, has done some research reporting that this has happened eight times in the last 2,000 years where they have fallen on the Jewish feast days, the Passover and Tabernacles. But there is something about this last eclipse on September 28th that has never happened before. Because it will be so close to Earth, it has been classified as a super moon.

This means it will be seen in Jerusalem on the feast day of the Tabernacles and that it also falls on a Shimitah year which falls on a seven-year cycle. Rabbi Jonathen Cahn is the author of a New York Times bestselling book called “The Ministry of the Shemitah”—A 3,000 Year-Old Mystery, which holds the secret of the Shemitah. The Shemitah actually began on Mount Sinai, which is simply called Sabbath.

It is supposed to be a blessing, but when Israel turned away from God, the Shemith came back as a sign of judgment on their nation.

The Moringa Oleifera—The Tree of Life! Part 4

A Storehouse of Fuel for Man and Machines Anne Childers, Staff Writer

The versatile Moringa Oleifera, native to warmer sub-tropical climates, has survived and thrived in the Tampa Bay area for several years thanks to the efforts of many individuals and organizations.

Morning Star Fishermen, the international aquaponics research and training facility in Dade City, has a history of working with Moringa in the prevention of starvation and malnutrition world-wide.

Morning Star's Executive Director, Phil Reasons, and instructor Ken Black strive to share and educate others in our communities on the tree John Hopkins School of Medicine has recognized for "well known nutritional properties." Moringa, a growing supermarket of natural vitamins and minerals, has been cited in the prevention of 300 diseases. Now exciting research is underway locally to turn this amazing natural resource into bio-fuel.

Ken Black, local engineer Peter Buczynsky, and a young Korean couple from USF's Civil & Environmental Engineering Department, Youngwoon Kim and Eun Young, are all hard at work on groundbreaking experiments with global implications.

Recent tests at USF using Moringa in the production of methane gas have produced a yield of 65% before scrubbing. After scrubbing, a yield of up to 90% methane is expected. In developed nations such as America, it is easy to compress the gas into bottled fuel using electric pumps.

"The challenge is converting the gas into fuel in undeveloped nations," explains Engineer Buczynsky. "Trying to 'McGyver' a system in a third world village is the difficulty."

Ken Black and this talented team believe the results will be worth the time and effort invested, locally and globally. "The leading cause of death in young women and children in underdeveloped countries is smoke inhalation from burning green wood for cooking and heating," states Black. A safe alternative fuel would save both lives and forests worldwide.

The full scope of the bio-fuel development project cannot be explained in this space. However, opportunities to learn more about this valuable natural resource, the Moringa Oleifera, are available in the community. Ken Black will teach a free-two hour class on October 5 at Morning Star Fisherman from 7:00pm until 9:00pm.

Reserve your seat in the upcoming class by emailing msfmail@morningstarfisherman.org or call (352) 523-2722 for additional information. If you would like to contact Ken Black, email this publication at edit101@ddpnews.com and watch this space next month for additional information on this natural phenomenon.

Kay's Kitchen - Three Potato Recipe

By Kay Dunn, Dunndead Gazettes

Use chopped garlic and jalapeno peppers in olive oil, potatoes, onions, bell peppers, fresh basil, and parsley.

Heat oil, then add garlic and hot peppers. Next, add the potatoes—sliced Yukon purple and sweet potatoes. Then add 1-inch pieces of chopped onions and peppers followed by fresh basil and parsley. Then add cayenne pepper, Himalayan pink salt, turmeric, and cumin. Lastly, add asiago chicken links.

“For it is by grace you have been saved, through faith—and this not from yourselves, it is the gift of God—not by works, so that no one can boast. For we are God’s workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do.”
— Ephesians 2: 8-10

What a Hot, Wet Summer!

But I'm Alive to Feel the Rain & the Heat!!!

By Kay Dunn, Dunndead Gazettes

This is the first year since I moved here in 1988 that there has been standing water in the yard. There was just nowhere for the water to go—too many new homes with lots of cement over the land that was once pasture land. So all the old Florida homeowners that have flooding can thank the land developers building over the wetlands!

Thank you, God, for providing me the strength needed to have a positive attitude. James 1: 2-4 is one of my favorite passages: “Consider it pure joy, my brothers, whenever you face trials of many kinds, because you know that the testing of your Faith develops perseverance.”

This weekend, Mark and I will head to Clearwater Beach to spend time with my little brother Jack and his wife, Shirley. They took their marriage vows on the beach and make the trip from Pennsylvania each year to celebrate another year together.

Here they are at the SandPearl Resort in Clearwater.
Nice view!

They've been eating healthy for many years and treating their bodies to exercise with lots of walking. They love to grill and create gourmet meals while watching the Philadelphia Eagles or the New York Yankees.

Remember, we are made up of mind, body, and spirit. Try my three potato recipe with the frittata recipe in the August issue!

The Top 7 Reasons to Choose Organic Foods Today

Regardless of diet, organic foods are a smart priority. Opting for organic foods is an effectual choice for personal and planetary health. Buying organically-grown food—free of harmful chemicals, bursting with more nutrition, taste, and sustainable sustenance—is a direct vote for immediate health and the hopeful future of generations to come.

1. Avoid chemicals

Eating organically-grown foods is the only way to avoid the cocktail of chemical poisons present in commercially-grown food. More than 600 active chemicals are registered for agricultural use in America to the tune of billions of pounds annually. The average application equates to about 16 pounds of chemical pesticides per person every year. Many of these chemicals were approved by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) before extensive diet testing. The National Academy of Sciences reports that 90% of the chemicals applied to foods have not been tested for long-term health effects before being deemed “safe.” Further, the FDA tests only 1% of foods for pesticide residue. The most dangerous and toxic pesticides require special testing methods, which are rarely if ever employed by the FDA.

2. Benefit from more nutrients

Organically-grown foods have more nutrients—vitamins, minerals, enzymes, and micronutrients—than commercially-grown foods because the soil is managed and nourished with sustainable practices by responsible standards. The Journal of Alternative and Complementary Medicine conducted a review of 41 published studies comparing the nutritional value of organically-grown and conventionally-grown fruits, vegetables, and grains and concluded that there are significantly more of several nutrients in organic foods crops.

Further, the study verifies that five servings of organically-grown vegetables (such as lettuce, spinach, carrots, potatoes, and cabbage) provide an adequate allowance of vitamin C, whereas the same number of servings of conventionally-grown vegetables do not.

3. Enjoy better taste

Try it for yourself! Bite into an organic tomato or apple and then taste a tomato or apple sprayed with chemicals—you will taste the difference! Organically-grown foods generally taste better because nourished, well-balanced soil produces healthy, strong plants. This is especially true with heirloom varieties, which are cultivated for taste over appearance.

4. Avoid GMO

Genetically engineered (GE) food and genetically modified organisms (GMO) are contaminating our food supply at an alarming rate with repercussions beyond understanding. GMO foods do not have to be labeled in America. Because organically-grown food cannot be genetically modified in any way, choosing organic is the only way to be sure that foods that have been genetically-engineered stay out of your diet.

5. Avoid hormones, antibiotics, and drugs in animal products

Conventional meat and dairy are the highest risk foods for contamination by harmful substances. More than 90% of the pesticides Americans consume are found in the fat and tissue of meat and dairy products.

The EPA reports that a majority of pesticide intake comes from meat, poultry, fish, eggs, and dairy products because these foods are all high on the food chain. For instance, a large fish that eats a smaller fish that eats even smaller fish accumulates all of the toxins of the chain, especially in fatty tissue. Cows, chickens, and pigs are fed animal parts, byproducts, fish meal, and grains that are heavily and collectively laden with toxins and chemicals. Lower-fat animal products are less dangerous, as toxins and chemicals are accumulated and concentrated in fatty tissue. Antibiotics, drugs, and growth hormones are also directly passed into meat and dairy products.

Tens of millions of pounds of antibiotics are used in animal feed every year. The union of concerned scientists estimates that roughly 70% of antibiotics produced in the United States are fed to animals for non-therapeutic purposes. US farmers have been giving sex hormones and growth hormones to cattle to artificially increase the amount of meat and milk the cattle produce without requiring extra feed. The hormones fed to cows cannot be broken down even at high temperatures. Therefore, they remain in complete form and pass directly into the consumer's diet when meat is eaten. Hormone supplementation is the biggest concern with beef, dairy products, and farmed fish.

6. Preserve our ecosystems

Organic farming supports eco-sustenance, or farming in harmony with nature. Preservation of soil and crop rotation keep farmland healthy, and chemical abstinence preserves the ecosystem. Wildlife, insects, frogs, birds, and soil organisms are able to play their roles in the tapestry of ecology, and we are able to play ours without interference or compromise.

7. Keep our children and future safe

Putting our money where our mouths are is a powerful position to take in the $1 trillion food industry market in America. Spending dollars in the organic sector is a direct vote for a sustainable future for the many generations to come.

Dr. Dan Coflin
Pastor, River of Life Church

There are those who hold the opinion that everything in life is preordained. Relationships, success, failures, financial lack or abundance, length of life, struggles, and victories all have been ordered up ahead of time by the master plan of the Almighty. If that were true, then our choices are either not our own or have no real efficacy. But the scriptures declare that our choices matter.

God's command to Israel was "I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing; therefore choose life, that both you and your children may live." (Deuteronomy 30:19). "Choose this day whom you shall serve," was the decree of Joshua. Even the commandments carry the blessing of obedience or the curse of rebellion.

We always have a choice, and our choices will determine what happens next. God told Joshua to "be strong and of good courage; be not afraid, neither be dismayed." (Joshua 1:9) Joshua had a choice—he could choose to be strong and courageous, or he could be afraid and dismayed.

We also have choices. Many may feel they are not strong enough to choose courage or choose to be unafraid, but when we choose to follow the will of God, then the power of God shows up.

His strength becomes ours. God does not ask us to be strong on our own, but to be "strong in the Lord and in the power of his might." (Ephesians 6:10) It is not by our might or our power, but by His Spirit that we overcome the challenges we face.

Abraham is a prime example of great faith.

Do You Really Have A Choice?

He is called the father of faith because he believed God's promises even when his circumstances looked hopeless. God promised him he would be the father of many nations, but his reality was that his aging wife was barren. He himself became incapable of producing children, but he refused to consider his impotence or his wife's barrenness. Romans describes Abraham's resolve:

"Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, So shall your seed be. And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about a hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sara's womb. He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief, but was strong in faith, giving glory to God and being fully persuaded that what he had promised, he was able also to perform."

Abraham's choice to believe God in spite of his circumstances resulted in the birth of Isaac. It wasn't by Abraham's ability, but God's ability.

Our days are filled with choices. What we choose will either access the power and grace of God or leave us weak and afraid. So let's choose life, strength, faith, and love, trusting in God and the ability He gives to bring change in our lives for our good and His glory.

Hailey was only two years old when she and her four siblings, all under the age of four, came to Hope.

Her parents and grandparents had been in a homeless shelter their whole lives, and the children didn't know any different. They were in sad shape with breathing problems and boils. Praise the Lord there was a place like Hope where Hailey's family could come and have a stable home with nutritious food, clothing, warm bed, and loving environment. Hailey is flourishing, and as you can see in this picture, her smile says it all! Please consider helping Hailey and the other children in our care.

Red Cross App Helps Pets

App helps dog and cat owners provide emergency care until veterinary assistance is available.

Pets are an important part of many families, and an American Red Cross Pet First Aid App puts lifesaving information right in the hands of dog and cat owners so they can provide emergency care until veterinary assistance is available.

The 99 cent Pet First Aid app gives iPhone and Android smartphone users instant access to expert information so they learn how to maintain their pet's health and what to do during emergencies.

"Pet owners learn how to recognize health problems and when to contact their veterinarian," said Linda Jorge Carbone, Chief Executive Officer of the Central Florida Region and the Tampa Bay Chapter.

"The Pet First Aid App provides step-by-step instructions, videos, and images for more than 25 common first aid and emergency situations including how to treat wounds, control bleeding, and care for breathing and cardiac emergencies."

Additional topics include burns, car accidents, falls, and what to do for cold- and heat-related emergencies. Other features in the app allow pet owners to:

- Create a pet profile including tag identification number, photos, list of medications, and instructions.

- Use the list of early warning signs to learn when to call their veterinarian.

- Use "click-to-call" to easily contact their veterinarian.

- Find emergency pet care facilities or alternate veterinarians quickly with the "animal hospital locator."

- Locate pet-friendly hotels.

- Test their knowledge with interactive quizzes and earn badges that they can share on their social networks along with their favorite picture of their pet.

History shows that people have not evacuated during disasters because they did not want to leave their pets behind. The Red Cross app contains resources to help owners include pets in their emergency action plans. Pet owners may also take a Red Cross Pet First Aid course so they can practice the skills and receive feedback. People can go to redcross.org/takeaclass for information and also to register.

The Red Cross has made great strides in making emergency information available whenever and wherever people need it. The Pet First Aid App and other Red Cross apps can be found in the Apple App Store and the Google Play Store for Android by searching for American Red Cross or by going online to redcross.org/mobileapps.

The Caregiver Corner

For those of us over 50, almost 1 out of 4 are taking care of a family member/neighbor/friend. 1 in 8 are doing that and raising their children at the same time (the Sandwich Generation). The number one rule of caregiving is for the caregiver to first take care of themselves. Just like the airline routine with the oxygen bags, you—the caregiver—need to take care of yourself first or you put both of you at risk. In fact, in regular life, this happens all too often. The stats show that over 60% of the time, the caregiver passes before the loved one they are taking care of. More often than not, it is because they just wore themselves out.

There are five keys to living a longer, healthier life: proper nutrition, exercise (stretching, strengthening, and cardio), mental stimulation, socialization, and the proper amount of rest. Whether you are the caregiver or the one being cared for, it is important to integrate all five of these into your life.

Another key is planning ahead. Steven Covey wrote a wonderful book called First Things First. In it, he recommends looking at all of your roles weekly, determining what you need to accomplish, prioritizing them, and looking for ways to position activities so multiple roles are satisfied by one activity. Once you run through this process, you may still find that you have more on your plate than you can handle.

When this happens, one needs to either look for some activities to cut/delay or identify resources to help you accomplish your tasks. That's where Griswold Home Care can assist. We refer caregivers who provide companionship and help with homemaking and personal care when you can't (or need respite in order to recharge your own battery). For more information, please see our website at www.griswoldhomecare.com.

The Caregiver Corner is coordinated by Arthur Moseley. Arthur and his wife Frieda are the owners of the Tampa and Pasco Offices of Griswold Home Care, one of the area's leading referrers of non-medical private pay home care services.

I AM NOW CONFIDENT AND COMFORTABLE WITH DRIVING

“Before I took driving lessons from Mr. George, I hated driving and was afraid of it. After ten hours of fun and knowledge filled driving lessons, Mr. George armed me with the skills and the “little tips and tricks of driving” and I am now confident and comfortable with driving in almost any situation.”

~ Casey Laurain, age 15

We are so happy with what you have accomplished with Casey. Her fear of driving is gone and she asks every day... “Can I drive?” I worked with her today on turns and she is doing so much better! I am committed to continuing what you have started with her to make sure that she is as safe as she can be on the roads. Thanks so much and God Bless! We will definitely be referring you!

Garden Connect

By Steve & Jeanne Wolfe

It's time to prepare for the fall garden. Even though we are still in the heat of the summer, we can send for catalogs and build our above-ground garden areas. We need to roto-till and hoe, planning and preparing for one of the best times of the year for gardening in Florida. We get the best harvest before the cold months are here

Have you thought of what you would like to plant this year? I start visiting the Shell's Feed store on Nebraska Avenue in Tampa. They have a very good variety, and that's the only place I can get the broad leaf mustard green seeds that we love. They are hardy and continue to grow after many cuttings.

Steve particularly loves to help me wash them in vinegar water. Then we cut the center stem out, roll the leaves like a cigar, slice them thin (like slaw), and throw the leaves in boiling water with a pinch of salt for less than half an hour to simmer with a lid.

In the meantime, he bakes up some cornbread in an iron skillet. It's good served southern style—drain through a slotted spoon as you serve the greens in a bowl with a pinch of vinegar and olive oil and a dash of hot sauce. Some people like real butter on top and that good ol' cornbread right on top of the greens. Can't hardly wait! Try some, you'll like it!

Here are some garden hints: After cleaning the garden area, put up your fertilizer, worm castings, and other supplements, etc., and let them rest a while. Don't put your leaf mulch, pine needles or other mulch on until the seedlings come up because too much can inhibit the seed growth. As the plants begin to mature, then begin to add more and more leaf mulch around them and not on top of them.

Remember, if the weather doesn't provide rain, one must give moisture to promote the plants to grow. Sometimes you can purchase the seedlings all ready to plant. I do both seeds and seedlings. You can plant in containers, but remember that they dry out quicker and remember to put weep holes in the container bottoms.

Greens, carrots, and other cool veggies usually go through our chilly weather here alright. Much success to you, and don't forget if you need advice, call your local County Extension Office. Here is the Pasco Cooperative Extension website: http://pasco.ifas.ufl.edu/contact_us.shtml. Their phone number is 352-518-0156.

Thank you, Ella, for your wonderful presentation last month on Moringa! Here is our email address by request: whtdovefarm@yahoo.com. Please note that we will not have a Garden Connect meeting this September.

Captain Ric's Fish Tales

Reel Simple Fishing Adventures

Denise McKinley with an overslot redfish she caught recently with Capt. Ric Liles in Tampa Bay.

Rain, rain, go away! Come again some other day! I think we all thought of that old rhyme in the past few weeks. The last report given was along the tune of things this time of year do not change much as the conditions are relatively constant.

Well, the past month has been an exception with more rain than normal—a lot more. This certainly did not help our inshore bite in the bay area. There are still fish to be caught, but you may have to do a little hunting before you find them.

Several things happen when we get as much rain as we have been getting. One of the things that happen is the salinity of the water changes and this will move some of our fish to other areas that maintain a higher salt level. The change seems to affect some species more than others. I live on the water and clean fish at my cleaning table on a regular basis and normally have 3 to 4 dozen catfish waiting for a handout, but since the heavy rains started, I haven't seen them while discarding scraps.

Another thing that a lot of rain will do is stain the water. This is caused by the tannic acid that comes from the runoff. As the runoff flows through the mangroves and other vegetation, it will bring with it the tannins from the tree. It does no harm to the water but does give it that iced tea-looking color. You will see this more around the rivers and creeks than on the beach areas due to the mangrove and oak tree donation. When the water gets stained from this natural condition, it makes for a slower bite because the fish simply can't see the bait as well.

Imagine you're eating your Sunday dinner at a well-lit table, and then compare that to trying to eat the same plate of food in the dark. It can still be done, but the time and effort to do so will certainly be different. Just a couple things to think about when fishing in less than perfect conditions. I hope this helps.

Until next time, good luck and be safe on the water. Remember: don't let your kid be the one that got away, take them fishing.

For charter fishing information, you can call (813) 601-2900, email CaptainRic@msn.com, or visit www.ReelSimpleFishing.com.

AMALIE ARENA

A portrait of Rick Bradshaw, a man with short grey hair wearing a blue shirt.

Rick Bradshaw

PGA Professional/GM

I recently collected all the data again in 2014/2015 on which body part should receive the National Golf School Sales Award and a trip for two to any island in the world that does not have a golf course. The winner by a landslide was the right hand! Coming in at a close second was the right shoulder, and honorable mention was the left side of the brain.

The Winner

- The right hand wants to take control of the golf swing right from the start through to the finish.
- He does not care who he bullies around to achieve control.
- Charges have been brought against him for choking the club and squeezing the life out it.
- Murder charges for trying to chop, bludgeon, and kill the ball are ever pending.
- Refusal to be a team player and follow the lead of the legs, body, and left side have caused grief for thousands of golfers. The results were thousands of golf lessons for teaching professionals and golf schools.

Close Second

- The right shoulder is an accomplice of the right hand and should be held accountable on all charges the right hand receives.
- The right shoulder is the force behind the right hand and wants to and does obliterate any chance of the golf club being pulled with great velocity down and through the ball.
- The right shoulder is the pushiest of body parts in the golf swing, and someone should shut him up. However, I would like to personally thank him for his monetary contribution to my golf school lesson volume.

Right Hand Wins Golf School Sales Award

Honorable Mention

- All right, I know the left side of the brain is responsible for us reaching the moon and our worldly successes, but give me a break—the golf swing is not that complicated!
- I truly enjoy teaching articulate left brain analysts as I enjoy their knowledge on various issues, and right brain lessons are quite a bore, but please refrain from overthinking, Mr. Left Side of the Brain, and be smart enough to focus on the most important issues and not every detail of the swing all at once.
- Once the left side of the brain filters out the unimportant details and focuses on the main factors involved in swinging a golf club, he could cost me lessons.

What is the responsibility of the right hand and side?

Hogan stated he wished he had three right hands through the moment of impact. In a powerful golf swing, the right foot, leg, and hip resist the turn on the backswing, loading energy. The downswing is triggered by this resistance, and the club is thrown back against the right hand and fingers. As the body continues to turn through the shot and the arms swing down and through the ball, the right hand is the last man standing to deliver energy to the club.

Unfortunately, the right hand does not like to wait until last and hits prematurely at the ball in sooooo many swings.

Small Groups at Grace Family Church

determine what our community needs based upon a combination of what's going on in our world, community, where their current stage of life is, what publishers are producing and, of course, have a pulse on what God is doing at this moment."

Home Bible studies are offered as well for the opportunity to learn God's Word and to bond with fellow Christians in a more private setting.

Each fall, the church holds a women's retreat. This year, the retreat will be held September 24th-26th at the Sheraton Sand Key Resort in Clearwater. The uplifting event consists of daily general sessions, and then attendees can select from several smaller breakout sessions. The annual event is a great way to connect with other Christian women. The people that are on the event committee go out of their way to make each person feel comfortable.

The men's group will be having a Man's Camp from October 22nd-24th. The event is an opportunity for men to come together in fellowship, to enjoy the outdoors, and to learn God's word.

Grace Family Church has four campuses. The main campus is located at 5101 Van Dyke Road, Lutz, FL 33558. The other campuses are located in Tampa, Ybor City, and Temple Terrace. For more information about the small groups, go to <http://gfconline.com/next-steps/groups>.

Sign of the Four Blood Moons

Could this ancient mystery be affecting us right now, or could it be a warning for what’s happening in America today? 9/11, the great plane crash, Wall Street long-term cases, 1973, 1980, 1987, 2000, and 2007, in 1948 when Israel became a nation, the Holocaust, and the Spanish Inquisition have all had a part in the seven-year cycle.

As Mark Biltz continues his talks about the first coming of the Messiah and the feast day of the Tabernacle. Genesis 1:14 “...and let them be signs and seasons and for days and years.”

The same Hebrew word translated for “seasons” in Genesis means “feasts” in Leviticus because the same word that is translated into fall or food literally means a divine appointment. That’s what the Hebrew word “moed” means, a divine appointment that are scheduled to happen.

Like Passover and Tabernacles, each one of these feasts in Hebrew is called “mikra”—convocation or assembly; of a dress rehearsal. So every time on Passover, the Jews went to a dress rehearsal of killing the Passover lamb. Jesus died on the cross and on the feast of unleavened bread, he was buried. And on the feast of firstfruit, he rose from the dead and his spirit was poured out on the feast of Pentecost or Shavu’ot. But most Christians don’t know that Jews have been keeping Pentecost every year for the last 1,500 years.

On the third hour of the day they bonded the Lord to the cross, and at that same moment the high priest bonded the Passover lamb to the altar while at the same time they were singing Psalm 118:22: “Bind the sacrifice with courts, even to the horns of the altar.” God had King David write the Psalms for the death of his Son 1,000 years before. Then at noon when he was lifted up, they were singing Psalm 118:16: “The right hand of the Lord is lifted up. The right hand of the lord is exalted.”

So not only did Jesus fulfill the feast that day but also the single hour. If Jesus fulfilled the spring feast of his first coming, he’ll fulfill the fall feast of his second coming.

Just before 1492, the Spanish Inquisition occurred when King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella of Spain gave out the new law that the Jews only had 4 months to convert to Catholicism or leave the country.

It was estimated that 165,000 to 400,000 Jews fled the country during this month, and as many as 50,000 decided to stay and convert to Roman Catholicism. The public labeled them practicing Jews, and they were sought out to be punished. Some were not really “sincere” in their conversions and were tortured to gain confessions to their practice and were burned at the stake.

Christopher Columbus was a Spaniard. Though many historians now believe that Christopher Columbus was secretly Jewish and planned his voyage to the west in order to escape the Spanish Inquisition. Simon Wiesenthal published a book called “Sounds of Hope—The Secret Mission of Christopher Columbus”. In it he argues, that his voyage was mostly motivated to find a safe haven for the Jews because of their expulsion from Spain.

The studies of Carol Delaney of Stanford University led her to believe that Columbus was a deeply religious man whose purpose was to sail to Asia to obtain gold in order to finance a crusade to take back Jerusalem and to rebuild the Jewish holy temple. As it was in 1492, the year Christopher Columbus supposedly discovered America.

Some people believed that Christopher Columbus’ voyage was not funded by the Queen Isabella but by two Jews who converted to Catholicism to avoid death. Louis de Santangel and Gabriel Sanchez advanced a free-interest loan of 17,000 docketts, equaling to about 13.5 million dollars in today’s currency, to help pay for his voyage as did rabbi Don Isaac Abrabanel, a Jewish statesman.

Just before the next Tetrad in 1949-1950, the Palestine Post printed. “The State of Israel is born.”

After the destruction of Jerusalem by the Romans in 70 AD, the Jews were driven into exile for the next 1,878 years as the Jewish people were sifted through the earth, and yet they still retained their identity.

After Hitler and the horrible Holocaust, the Jews were finally granted a homeland by the UN World of Nations, and a modern state of Israel was born. As the next Tetrad occurred in 1967-1968, a six-day war broke out and the city of Jerusalem was reunited for the first time under Jewish control. This day was so important because God said that he would place his name in Jerusalem, and since then for 2,000 years religious Jews have been praying three times each day for the restoration of Jerusalem and the rebuilding of the temple.

The Jewish feast days have all fallen in close proximity to these dates of major Jewish events or have fallen remarkably close to or exactly on major events in Jewish history. The question now is are they about to happen for the fourth time through April 15, 2014 and September 28, 2015?

And do these four blood moons coincide with the Jewish feast days? Some say that they do and that something is getting ready to happen that will change the world forever.

In Genesis 1:14: God said, “Let there be light in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night, and seasons, and for days, and years”.

Weren’t the wise men led to Jesus by a star? Mathew 2:1: “Now after Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, wise men from the east came to Jerusalem, saying, ‘Where is he who has been born king of the Jews? For we saw the star when it rose and have come to worship him.’

Matthew 2:9: “After they had heard the king, they went on their way, and the star they had seen in the east went before them until it came to rest over the place where the child was.”

Matthew 2:10: “When they saw the star, they rejoiced exceedingly with great joy.”

Joel 2:30: “And I will show wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood and fire and pillars of smoke. The sun shall be turned into darkness before the great and terrible day of the Lord coming.”

Revelation 6:12: “And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon become as blood.” Here we have these prophecies that say the moon is going to be turned into blood as a sign in the heavens.

The Bible prophesizes a peace treaty between Palestinians and the Israelis, and when this peace treaty is signed it will mark the beginning of the final seven years of the Battle of Armageddon and the second coming of Jesus Christ.

According to the Bible, God has at times used stars and the heavens to indicate things to come and about the prophecy of the moon being turned into blood in the end times.

Advertising in your publications is probably the sole reason my Palm Trimming business has succeeded over the years. It's the only place I gladly pay for advertising year after year. Thanks Kay for all the great service over the years, and I'm looking forward to many more years of advertising with you!

(This is another boring medical advertisement.)

The picture is from ten years ago.

I have less hair. I'm probably shorter. Definitely chubbier.
I embarrass my teenage daughter daily (like this).

I've learned a lot since then.

I stay up to date. I read. I ask questions.

I bring that new knowledge to you.

I still care.
